heart to heart...

Dear Friend,

It is with gratitude and great joy that we send the latest Wisdom Digest to you. We are grateful to God for having kept us throughout 2023. This past October, we celebrated our 35th wedding anniversary. We thank God for His goodness and mercies in our lives and how God has used our union to bless, inspire and encourage many others across the world. To God be all the glory!

The ministry that God has used us to birth has been an instrument for discipling the nations: teaching, exhorting and inspiring others to become all that God planned them to be. Testimonies abound from around the world as to how many have been blessed, healed, and inspired. As we celebrate God's faithfulness and grace that has enabled us, we also appreciate those that God has called alongside us.

In this edition, we are excited to share with you the release of our brand-new devotional book, Wisdom 365! It is a project that has been long coming. We hope that as this year comes to a close, you will enjoy this devotional as a daily companion in the new year: unlock the great blessings that come with spending time with God! Contact our UK office via email to place your order: office@uk.fowm.org. What a great Christmas gift it will be!

We look forward to a victorious new year! This magazine has a selection of messages to bless you as you prepare to enter the new year. Take full advantage of these wonderful products as advertised. Get ready for a great year coming. 2024 is our year of restoration of all the enemy has stolen from us. Let us go for the great things God has in store for us as we prepare to enter into the new year.

We love and appreciate all those who have been involved with this ministry since its inception and those who have joined us along the journey. We pray God's blessings on you and your families in the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour.

Merry Christmas and a joy-filled new year!

35 The journey so far...

An exclusive chat with Revs. Kola & Funke as they mark their 35th wedding anniversary

How would you describe your 35 years of marriage in one word...

As we celebrate God's blessings and His faithfulness over us in the last 35 years of marriage, Rev. Funke and I have everything to be grateful for as He has kept us alive, in health and enjoying His care for us both. The level of understanding, oneness and loving care for one another is remarkable and it is a sign of God's goodness and grace.

What started as an adventure into the life that He has for us, has turned out to be an instrument in God's hands to influence many people to fulfil their destinies in God.

It is hard to describe these years in one word. I would describe it in two words: understanding and love.

Rev. Kola

Hmmmm... Evolving!

Rev. Funke

...our differences were ordained by God, to be complementary to our goals

In reflecting on your early years of working together in ministry, what are some of your greatest lessons?

One sure word that describes the early days, is wisdom. We read in Isaiah 33:6 (NKJV) that, "Wisdom and knowledge will be the stability of your times, And the strength of salvation; The fear of the LORD is His treasure."

From the early days of working together, Rev. Funke and I have been able to recognise each other's strengths and abilities in the work of the ministry, as well as family demands. My wife is more family-orientated; she has helped greatly in the upbringing of the children and maintained the relationships within the family. Her contribution to both family and ministry remains outstanding as she brought in dimensions of relationships to help in every sphere.

We continue to enjoy the different contributions we both bring as we flow in our strengths and abilities.

Rev. Kola

One: That my husband and I, being two different people and coming from totally different backgrounds (though working towards common goals- success in life, marriage, family and ministry); would naturally have differences in our methods, styles, perspectives, etc. Though our differences were ordained by God, to be complementary to our goals; they could also be problematic, if not handled well.

I learnt you will not always agree, but you can disagree without being disagreeable- you can agree to disagree. You would have to allow the other person handle things differently, and trust their judgment. One of my lecturers in university used to say, "as many teachers, as many methods." I believe that the better idea or method should prevail, even if it comes from "the weaker vessel!"

Two: I realised that separating the domestic roles from work roles could be quite challenging on both sides. You have to be intentional about not wearing the husband/wife hat on the job. For instance, because the Bible says the man is the head of his wife, you might be expected to “submit in everything” to your husband; even folks who should report to you, jump over you to speak to your him! The reporting line and other things tend to be blurred, because you are seen and treated as “the wife of” and not in your official capacity. I used to say that wouldn’t be so if I was running my own law practice or even employed somewhere else.

Three: Separating your personal life from ministry. As founders of a ministry, there’s a tendency to use every ‘dime’ that comes into your hands for the ministry. Because you so much want to see the ministry succeed, you sacrifice everything- money, time and energy; which can prove to be very detrimental to your health, family life and other important things in your life.

Though it is very necessary and unavoidable to make sacrifices, they must, however, be reasonable and well-balanced.

Also, not having a demarcation between your money and ministry money, which might have started with a sacrificial motive, could become a major credibility issue as the ministry grows. The Bible says we mustn’t let our good be evil spoken of!

Four: Maintaining your focus. It’s amazing how easy it is to be tempted to copy what seems to be “working” or in vogue- like they say, “if you can’t beat them, join them.” The Israelites asked for a king, because they wanted to be like other nations. Stay with the vision and the message God gave you, even if it doesn’t look popular now: “For the vision is yet for an appointed time; But at the end it will speak, and it will not lie. Though it tarries, wait for it; Because it will surely come, It will not tarry.” (Hab. 2:3).

Five: The influence of third parties- especially the negative influence! People who didn’t know how you started and what God told you; would want to determine how you should do things in your ministry. The story of the young and old prophets readily comes to mind. God had commanded the young prophet not to eat bread or drink water or return by the way he came, but he disobeyed God, because he believed the old prophet who claimed he got a contrary word through an angel of the Lord. The disobedience caused the young prophet his life, and needless to say, ended his ministry! (1 Kings 13:11-32).

Six: Another lesson I learnt is that your priorities, desires, concerns, etc; change as you grow older. There were some things that mattered to me in those early year- things I almost regarded as ‘deal-breakers’; but no more now. I even often say to myself (like my daughter would say), “Funke, it isn’t that deep.” That was why I described my first 35 years of marriage, as evolving! The apostle Paul said, “When I was a child, I spoke and thought and reasoned as a child. But when I grew up, I put away childish things.” (1 Cor. 13:11 NLT).

Rev. Funke

How have you been able to juggle it all? How have you been able to attain balance both on the home front and in ministry?

Rev. Funke’s contribution to both the home and ministry has helped me appreciate the need for balance. She has been very supportive, understanding and helpful in so many ways. She has encouraged me to give expression to my callings and gifting. She combines a prophetic calling with a pastoral heart. Her leadership skills are awesome. I have witnessed how she balances her work on the home front, and in ministry. She is indeed a gift from God to me, to the people we reach out to in our churches, and in the ministry. Our differences have worked out well for us as we both enjoy the freedom to express ourselves in our gifting and callings: accepting one another, loving and honouring one another, and allowing ourselves to give expression to our gifts and callings. All these have made us a good team both in family life as well as in ministry.

The first thing for me was to identify all the important aspects of my life- my relationship with God, my marriage, my kids, ministry, other important relationships in my life, etc; and not to drop any of them. I also identified my general well-being was very key to achieving success in all these aspects. I was determined not to succeed at the expense of any important things in my life. God gave Joshua the formula for “good success” (Josh. 1:8); which implies not all success is good!

Understanding that life is in phases, and recognising the phase I was in at every point in time. The phase would determine what is given top-most priority and attention. Though I never abandoned any area of my life, they didn't get “equal” attention. For instance, when the kids were little, they needed more attention. Understanding that not everything can wait; your relationship with God can't wait- you must maintain daily fellowship with God, no matter how busy you are! Your spirit man needs to be fed, just as your physical needs physical food for development and sustenance. Your kids will not be little forever, you must be there for them now. I remember when I had to supervise their homework; when I had to make my girls' hair; when I had to cook their meals; going on family breaks during the school half-terms; etc; those times couldn't wait, they had to be seized. Now that I don't have to do all those things, I can give more attention to the other things.

I always ask God for wisdom to handle things. Wisdom is the right application of knowledge. Paul, in praying for the Colossians, said, “that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding; that you may walk worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing Him, being fruitful in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God;” (Col. 1:9c-10). So, it isn't enough to know God's will, you also need His wisdom to do the right thing at the right time- there is a time to everything and God makes everything beautiful in its time (Eccles. 3:1,11).

Rev. Funke

What would you say are some of the things you enjoy about working together?

Acknowledging the help of God through His grace multiplied, has enabled us to enjoy both family and ministry together.

I believe that going through these lessons are important in enjoying the benefits of working together:

- being able to recognise each person's strengths and contributions and letting them function in those areas for the benefit of all.
- understanding how each person functions and creating room for the expression of their strengths and abilities.
- understanding the limitations of each person's strengths and encouraging them to maximise their potential.

It is important to build on each other's strengths; do your best to make that strength operate at its best possible level. Knowledge of each other's strengths is a very important tool in working together. Knowing your own strength will also help you to develop capacity for more effective contributions to the overall success of your relationship.

Rev. Kola

In spite of the challenges; I can say there are quite a number of gains from working together! Here are some of them:

One, being able to have ample time together. You know how often you get to see your work mates!

Two, having more common grounds of fellowship.

Three, being also able to share each other's challenges and being able to give meaningful support to each other.

Four, we can also stand in for each other. For instance, if either of us had a preaching engagement outside the church; the other person would be in church. We actually avoid being away together for too long.

What could you share with those just starting out and/or desire to work together as husband and wife?

Anyone who desires to work together in ministry as husband and wife, should first of all be sure that God is leading them to do so. It is important to have mutual love and respect for each other's callings. Understand that gifts and callings need time to develop into mature expressions. The genuineness of individual callings becomes vital.

There is always the temptation to build ministries according to some existing patterns; whereas God may be leading towards a unique pattern. Rev. Funke and I discovered this in our own lives and ministries. Challenges do occur as a result of individual differences. The differences in nature, nurture and culture need to be identified. In my experience, it is our love for God and for one another, and our willingness to learn, adjust and rise up to challenges, that has helped us to come this far, to the glory of God! There are sacrifices we have made, risks we have taken and steps of faith and boldness at both personal and family levels. God has been faithful to see us through.

it is our love for God and for one another... that has helped to us come this far, to the glory of God!

The truth is you should be supportive of your spouse- even if you are not in ministry yourself. If I was still in the Law practice, I would have still been involved in the ministry but not as I am now. I don't believe every pastor's wife should necessarily be a (full-time) pastor; just as not every pastor's child is called to be a pastor!

Having said that, now to answer the question:

One, you must first ascertain if you should be working together in the first place! That you're married doesn't automatically mean you should work together. I tell people that I am not doing what I do, because I'm Rev. Kola's wife; but because I am called. My husband and I have a unique relationship- divinely orchestrated for a purpose. We started "working together" even before we got married! We were already in a relationship when God called him into full-time Ministry; so I knew I was getting married to a minister. I remember him telling me that he had always known (even before we ever met), that his wife would stand "side by side" with him in Ministry!

Then, you must identify your own unique gifts and calling, so you know what roles you should be playing in the work. You're meant to complement each other- each person supplying what the other doesn't have, to enhance the work. You're meant to complement and not to copy; to complement and not to compete.

Two, work hard on keeping your marriage and family strong. Doing ministry together could put extra pressure on your marriage; because it's quite hard to separate the home from the Ministry! There's that tendency to bring ministry challenges into your home; also, many church members don't respect the pastor's privacy. Be loyal to each other- you must choose each other above church members; let them know your marriage comes before the Ministry. Learn to value and express appreciation for each other's contributions.

Don't be so engrossed in Ministry work, that you neglect each other and your family. So, try to keep Ministry away from home; plan get-away times together from time to time; and be intentional about putting your family above Ministry. Avoid being away from the kids together for long; the kids shouldn't be "robbed" of their parents. I remember Gloria Copeland said she wasn't travelling around with Kenneth when the kids were still little. Ruth Graham was mostly with the kids when Billy was travelling to one crusade after the other! I am not, however, by any means suggesting or implying that the job of parenting should left solely to the wife!

You both must realise that your family is the first expression of your Ministry. From the start of Ministry, I was determined not to neglect my family- after all, charity begins at home! The Bible says, "But if anyone does not provide for his own, and especially for those of his household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever." (1 Tim. 5:8); also a man who doesn't govern his house well, can't govern the church (1 Tim. 3:5)!

Three, don't let Ministry take the place of God in your lives; a lot of ministers have mixed up the two. Ministry should flow out of your relationship with God. When Jesus called His 12 disciples, the Bible is clear about the order of their appointment or assignments: "Then He appointed twelve, that they might be with Him and that He might send them out to preach, and to have power to heal sicknesses and to cast out demons:" (Mk 3:14-15). They were appointed first to be with Him, before being sent out! Mary sat at the feet of Jesus listening to His words, while Martha was busy with serving. The Bible actually says, "Martha was distracted with much serving," (Luke 10:40b). Be careful not to allow ministry (service) to become a distraction!

Four, (which is closely tied to no. 3); you mustn't forget to pay attention to yourself; Ministry should be an overflow of your life. Paul told Timothy, "Take heed to yourself and to the doctrine. Continue in them, for in doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you." (1 Tim. 4:16). Ministers are influencers in the society; therefore what you do, as well as what happens in your life and family, could have ripple effects. Jesus warned, "If anyone causes one of these little ones—those who believe in me—to stumble, it would be better for them to have a large millstone hung around their neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea." (Matt. 18:6 NIV). No wonder, James 3:1 says teachers would be judged more strictly!

Make sure you're not just preaching to others, but you're also practicing what you preach- that is actually what gives authority and power to what you preach. Have you noticed that being a medical doctor, doesn't automatically keep you from falling sick yourself; except you also do what you advise your patients to do?

Rev. Funke

you mustn't forget to pay attention to yourself - ministry should be an overflow of your life.

Please share with the readers what you are most looking forward to in the next phase of marriage, and in ministry?

God has been good to us. He has made it possible for our gifts and callings to complement each other's gifts and callings for the effectiveness of our operations in ministry as well as on a personal level. We have enjoyed our relationship with one another and look forward to greater levels of friendship, understanding and love.

Philippians 2:13-15 (NKJV)

"for it is God who works in you both to will and to do for His good pleasure. Do all things without complaining and disputing, that you may become blameless and harmless, children of God without fault in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world..."

This passage captures my expectations for the next phase of our marriage. We shall continue to enjoy His good pleasure in our marriage and continue to shine as lights in this world. I pray that God will do exceedingly, abundantly, above anything that I can ask or think for the next phase of our marriage.

This next phase is also a phase of full expressions in maturity and understanding. We look forward to causing great impact in the lives of people as we see God's kingdom advance in the nations of the earth. The sincerity, integrity and hunger for God's Word and intimacy with God's Spirit, all go a long way in the impact that God has used us to make in the lives of people. Our motivation has not been showmanship or self-gratification, but rather that God's will be done on earth as it is in heaven. We continue to cooperate with the Holy Spirit within us to give expression to His plans and purposes for the people we have had the privilege of leading, influencing and building up.

As we have matured our understanding of the Word of God also matured in us. Then I better understood this scripture:

Ephesians 4:11-16 (NKJV)

"And He Himself gave some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the equipping of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; that we should no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in the cunning craftiness of deceitful plotting, but, speaking the truth in love, may grow up in all things into Him who is the head—Christ— from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by what every joint supplies, according to the effective working by which every part does its share, causes growth of the body for the edifying of itself in love."

These gifts and callings did not manifest fully at the beginning of the ministry. It was as we matured, rising up to the challenges we faced and seeing God's goodness and grace pouring forth into our lives, that we saw Him confirm His Word with signs following. We are still learning, growing and becoming more like Christ as we do the will of Him who called us.

Romans 8:28-30 (NKJV)

"And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose. For whom He foreknew, He also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, that He might be the firstborn among many brethren. Moreover whom He predestined, these He also called; whom He called, these He also justified; and whom He justified, these He also glorified."

We look forward to doing greater works too!

John 14:12-14 (NKJV)

The Answered Prayer

"Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do he will do also; and greater works than these he will do, because I go to My Father. And whatever you ask in My name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If you ask anything in My name, I will do it."

I am so grateful to God for His gift of my wife to me. I am very grateful to my wife for her sacrifices and dedication to the Lord and our relationship in family life and ministry life. It has been like a dream come true. God is to be praised. Amen.

Right now, I'm focused on pastoring the Harvestime Church (as well as giving pastoral oversight to our other churches), while my husband is focused on the apostolic and itinerant aspects of the ministry. In the next few years, I look forward to other (full-time) pastors being raised in Harvestime; so I can be freer to focus on other aspects of ministry. I also look forward to my husband and I being able to do more travelling together. On the home front, I look forward to being able to have more family times together, as our family gets bigger- with our kids and their families!

Early days: Revs. Kola & Funke Ewuosho met during their youth service in 1986

The couple were engaged when Rev. Kola attended & graduated from Bible School (1987)

Their wedding day, 22nd October 1988

Rev. Kola and Rev. Funke Ewuosho met during their National Youth Service in Owerri, Nigeria, in 1986. During their courtship, Rev. Kola received the call from God to full-time ministry. They got married in Lagos, on the 22nd October, 1988, and the couple began their life together in Kano. In 1989, Rev. Kola and Rev. Funke welcomed their first baby, Samuel Kolawole Oluwapelumi, after which Rev. Funke felt the call to leave her law practice and join her husband, Rev. Kola, in fulltime ministry. They were further blessed with two more babies - Morenikeji Ruth and Joanna Kanyinsola.

God has used Rev. Kola and Rev. Funke Ewuosho to raise an Apostolic centre, the Word of Faith Christian Centre (in Kano, Nigeria), from which many ministries and churches have sprung out. They are also the author of many books, including: 'Behind Enemy Lines' (Rev. Kola Ewuosho) and '31 Diamond Drops' (Rev. Funke Ewuosho).

In year 2000, the family relocated to the UK (where they have since been residing). And in 2003 they started Harvestime Church UK; an FOWM Church. God has also used their UK base to raise and inspire multitudes, and birth many more leaders and ministries.

FOWM has churches and offices all over the world: Nigeria, Ghana, Kenya, Cameroon and the UK. The minstry also hosts conferences and leadership training in Latin America, Asia and Africa.

In the chapel of their devoted hearts they stand,
Rev Kola and Funke Ewuosho, hand in hand.
Thirty-five years of marital grace, time's soft strand,
Their love, a beacon, by which many land.

To each other, "Bunchie" in whispers sweet,
A testament of love, where two true souls meet.
Samuel, Keji, Kanyinsola, and their spiritual children at their feet,
Witnesses to a bond, time couldn't beat.

Through decades of sunshine, and nights sometimes cold,
With faith as their compass, humble stories of old.
Their commitment unwavering, love untold,
In God's book of love, their tale is bold.

Trials and triumphs, seasons come and go,
Yet their love's flame continues to glow.
An example to believers, their love does show,
That with faith, true love can only grow.

Their journey, a testament of God's grace,
Inspiring believers, setting the pace.
Through every challenge, they've won the race,
With each other, in a loving embrace.

Happy 35th anniversary, our pillars so true,
May God's blessings continuously flow through.
In faith and love, may you always renew,
Celebrating the legacy of love built by you.

FULFILLING THE DEBT OF LOVE

BY REV. FUNKE Ewuosho

The scriptures tell us to "Let no debt remain outstanding, except the continuing debt to love one another..." Rom. 13:8. We all owe love to others; we are in debt, because God has shown so much love and mercy towards us. In this series you will learn what it means to truly love others and fulfill the great commandment to 'love the Lord your God with all your heart, soul and mind' and to 'love your neighbour as yourself'.

THE POWER OF forgiveness

REV. FUNKE EWUOSHO

THE POWER OF FORGIVENESS

BY REV. FUNKE EWUOSHO

Ephesians 4:31-32 (NIV) says, "Get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you" It's not enough to know that we are to forgive one another - we should know the purpose and power of forgiveness. The parable of the unforgiving servant in Matthew 18 shows us our heavenly Father's response when we withhold forgiveness. In this powerful message, Rev. Funke shares on: why we should forgive; and how to forgive. Glean some practical insights on how to handle hurts and develop the spiritual fruit of love!

HOW TO PLEAD YOUR CASE

BY REV. FUNKE Ewuosho

In pleading your case, you must know that you have an advocate with the Father. Jesus is the mediator of the new covenant and He pleads for you. In this powerful series, Rev. Funke dives into biblical precedents about pleading our case with God. What can we learn from these examples? How can we apply certain principles to let them work for us? As believers we must also know how to lead our case against the enemy. Satan seeks to accuse us, but thank God that we can plead our case against him! We will also learn how to plead our case by the blood and by God's mercy. This is a spiritually loaded message series, with so much to feast on!

God's Divine Favour...

As some of you may know, I am currently a third-year university student. Last year (2022) I had a particularly large and difficult assignment that would greatly impact my final degree. It was said to all those studying on my course that those who would like to could enter into the 'Savills University of Westminster Challenge' when they submit a particular assignment. Six pupils with the top grades would then be selected to go to Savills (a large and well-known property company) to present their work. Out of those selected, 3 would be given a cash prize and an internship at Savills. At the time I didn't think much of it as this assignment wasn't what I would have considered my strength. However, I asked God for His will to be done and I entered into the competition. After my assignment was completed and submitted, I received my grade and to God's glory, I did very well! As I mentioned, this assignment was not easy and I found it very difficult, so my grade alone is a testament to God's faithfulness! I then received the amazing news that I was one of the top 6 to be selected to present my work to Savills!

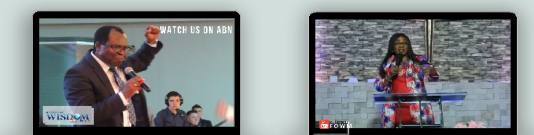

I immediately thanked God for His divine favour. However, after receiving the news I didn't hear anything else. I was sending emails to multiple lecturers as the day of the presentation was nearing. A week before the presentation was scheduled I was told that I had been selected by 'mistake' and I was actually the 7th top student instead of the 6th, so I wasn't supposed to be presenting. Honestly, I was very disappointed. I confided in the leaders at Ignite (our student ministry at Harvestime Church) and I prayed with my mum. At this point in time Pastor Funke was delivering her message, 'How to Plead Your Case'. As I was at home watching the message, the day before the presentation, I followed Pastor in prayer on how to plead my case to God. I asked God for justice, mercy and for His divine intervention. Before I had even finished watching the rest of the sermon, I received an email from the university informing me that I had now been promoted to 6th position and I would be presenting my work to Savills. Do we not serve the God of the impossible?! I literally jumped out of my seat thanking God and I went to tell my mum the news so we could thank God together. He gave me the strength and determination to create a well put together presentation in under 24 hours and memorise my notes.

The next day I went to Savills HQ and presented my work. I told God this was all for His glory and asked if He would use my experience as a testament to His goodness. After all the students had presented and the decisions had been made, my name was called out as the winner for first place. I won the largest cash prize as well as a 4-week paid internship! I'm so grateful to God for allowing me to partake in the competition and for sending Pastor Funke to teach and guide me in how to grow as a young Christian woman. I'd like to encourage you not to accept 'mistakes', as God makes no mistakes! Commit all your cares to God and He will take care of you.

FOWM'S INT'L WOMEN'S RETREAT

My name is Linda Sleep. I have attended Harvestime Church (in Virginia Water, Surrey UK) for about four years. It is a ministry that has impacted my life to the glory of God. This year (2023) I attended the ministry's women's retreat, "The International Women's Retreat", from Friday 15 to Sunday 17 September. It was at the De Vere Hotel Estate in East Horsley, England. It was an incredible, life-transforming experience that I will never forget. From this retreat I felt that my faith went higher into a new and stronger spiritual dimension. Rev. Funke Ewuosho ministered to us from her latest book, "31 Diamond Drops", and for me, she spoke on very practical principles for daily living and application. I enjoyed the way she explained things in very simple but powerful ways and backed by the Word of God. Since the retreat, I have been applying the principles she taught on focusing on my strengths, for example, and also about choosing your battles. This has had a profound impact on how I approach things both in my personal life and my business, and how I relate to those around me in my own ministry. I also got to fellowship and meet other amazing women who are also growing and maturing in their walk with God. We had opportunities to share and pray with one another. I want to thank Rev. Funke and her team for the tireless work they put into organizing this retreat. The venue was very appropriate for this event, and the food was awesome. May God continue to bless and raise Rev. Funke as she ministers and raises women to be who God has called them to be. I give all thanks and glory to God our Father and my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. I am really looking forward to the retreat in 2024. Thank you so much Rev Funke. May God bless you richly!

Linda (UK)

I am very glad to be connected to the women of Fountain of Wisdom Ministries! Rev. Funke, thank you for the wise words and advice you gave during the women's retreat this year.

I received a lot of wisdom for life: how to approach issues; how to navigate through different situations; and how to choose my own battles. I loved this topic on 'choosing my battles' so much, because at that moment when this wisdom was revealed I was going through an issue in my own church. An issue that really was not worth the fight. I chose not to fight that battle and to just leave it, with wisdom. Coming to this women's retreat has enhanced and confirmed that some battles are not necessary and a waste of energy. Rev. Funke said: "It is not every battle you must fight!". One month has gone since the retreat, and this is still ringing in my thoughts. Also, the venue of the retreat was awesome and relaxing. In between the seminars we had a lot of time to rest, which I appreciate so much.

It was very successful and I'm looking forward for the next one!

DEVELOPING CAPACITY & STRENGTH BY REV. KOLA EWUOSHO

Capacity development is a function of knowledge and application of the truths of God's Word in our lives. Knowing the Word is a function of the capacity we have developed. There is theoretical knowledge and there is practical knowledge. Knowing how to apply principles with the mind of producing the expected transformation in our lives is the secret of developing capacity.

MOVING MOUNTAINS BY REV. FUNKE EWUOSHO

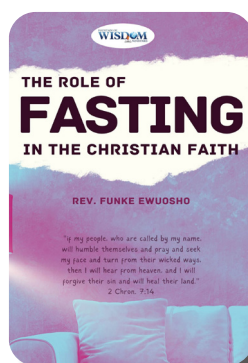

God is not the One withholding any good thing from you. However, there are lies the devil may have sold to us. The enemy wants to steal from us, and he does so through confusion, condemnation, reasonings, false teachings, and more. In this prophetic message, Rev. Funke Ewuosho takes us through the scriptures and teaches us about moving those mountains that stand in our way.

LIFESTYLE OF A CONQUEROR BY REV. KOLA EWUOSHO

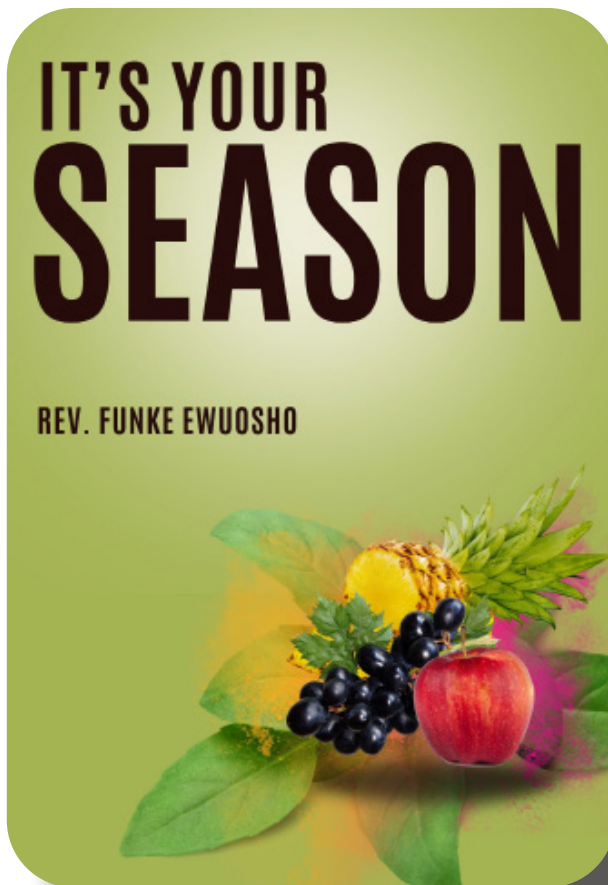

No matter what we go through in life, we have been made more than conquerors through Christ's sacrifice for us. He conquered for us and gave us the victory - so we are more than conquerors! We are overcomers in this life! We are victorious through Him who loved us. It is not what we did that produced this state of victory, but what we have become through Him who loved us. MESSAGES FOR THE NEW YEAR

IT'S YOUR SEASON

BY REV. FUNKE EWUOSHO

It's God's will for you to always be in season. This powerful teaching not only shows us how to be in season, but how to remain in season! Learn how to be fruitful in all things. Psalm 1:1-3 (NIV) says, "Blessed is the one... whose delight is in the law of the Lord, and who meditates on his law day and night. That person is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither—whatever they do prospers." Rev. Funke breaks down this prophetic message by showing us the things that characterise the season of a thing; what we should do to come into our season; and how we can participate in our season. Listen/watch and be blessed!

THE SUPERNATURAL LIFE OF THE BELIEVER

BY REV. KOLA EWUOSHO

The sacrifice of Jesus Christ made the power of God available to all believers. We need to learn how to place a demand on the power of God - because it is ours for the taking! Mark 16:15-18 (ESV) says, "And he said to them, "Go into all the world and proclaim the gospel to the whole creation. Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. And these signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will cast out demons..." We are called of God to influence the earth, with the power and the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ - walking in the supernatural power of God, as we preach the gospel and disciple the nations.

Going through Process...

With joy and gladness I write this testimony to the glory of my Father in heaven and to the encouragement of my family from Him.

As I look back to reflect on some parts of my journey with Him I can see His hands on every single detail, be it small or big. It includes the times when I didn't really know Him; I only believed in Him religiously, as a distant entity.

I first visited the UK as a 15-year-old student. I heard an inner voice saying I would return to the UK, but I didn't quite understand. I didn't know anything about the prophetic at the time. 14 years later, on 29th August 2006, I relocated to the UK. I was only in the country for 3 days when a colleague, namely Phumzi, invited me to Harvestime Church, and since 3rd September 2006 the rest is history!

My grandma taught me to pray at the age of 5 and answered all my questions. She explained that that I am talking to God and although I cannot see Him with my natural eyes, He does see me. At Harvestime Church I realised that God not only sees but hears and answers the prayers of His people.

I have been receiving from and growing spiritually at Harvestime Church, thanks to the Word of God and the prophetic teaching by Pastor Funke and Reverend Kola; so that I may know what to do with the prophetic, how to apply it to get victorious results, and how to overcome the power of the enemy, Satan himself. In the summer of 2012 Reverend Kola led me in the prayer of salvation so that my soul may not perish. At an Encounter Night on the 25th March 2014, I received the gift of tongues by a brother laying hands on my forehead. I was baptised with water on the 18th April 2014. In 2015, I heard Reverend Kola saying that he wasn't saved just for religious activities but for something great. I thought to myself, how about me? I finally realised that I should look to God to answer my questions. He is the creator and owner of the plan, so I began to seek Him even more seriously. One day some time in 2015, I woke up saying I must go to the world to preach the Gospel. God gently told me: "Let Me heal you first." In order to hear from Him, all the junk had to go from my mind, from my heart and from my body too. I also had to learn to be quiet and still before Him and listen to what He has to say. I went through a deep healing and restoration process, which is another testimony.

In May 2016 God inter-connected me with a ministry where they equip Holy Spirit Evangelists and send them out to the mission field. By that time I understood from the Word that before reaching out to Judea and Samaria and the ends of the earth, I needed to start in Jerusalem which is my own family. God lovingly and mercifully used me to lead my earthly father to Christ before passing away 2 years ago and he did the same for my stepfather before his death 10 months ago. Prior to this I had to go through a whole process of forgiveness to be able and to be available as a vessel for God. Amongst these, the greatest miracle for me was leading my mum in the prayer of salvation 2 years ago after a life time of addiction to alcohol, and the healing of my brother from brain tumour. Other testimonies also encouraged my faith, and I responded to an opportunity to train and develop further at an Evangelism Bootcamp overseas. God is faithful to continue the work He has begun in me.

May Jesus receive the reward for His suffering even unto death for eternal life.

May Pastor Funke and Reverend Kola receive theirs for the labour of their love, and everyone at Harvestime Church too.

May my life count even unto death, as long as the Gospel is preached.

In Jesus' Name, Amen.

With Love and Blessings

Katarina

TEEN CAMP 2.0

CAMPOUT FOR PURPOSE-DRIVEN TEENS (2023)

The Teens Campout was established mainly for the purpose of strengthening the love of God in the hearts of our teenagers at Word of Faith Christian Centre (WOFCC), Lagos Nigeria. It is organized by Deacon Dotun Adeshina and Deaconess Kemi Izedomie. It comprises of teenagers from the ages of 12 - 18 years with the guidance of mentors and teachers.

This year's camp was an educative, spiritual, interactive, and fun experience for them. It helped the teenagers build and maintain friendships and build lasting memories.

Educational session:

The teaching sessions were interactive and at the same time impactful. We had guest speakers and our very own Children's Church teachers provide talks and engage the teens with important topics, such as purpose, purity, foundation, and other relevant doctrines.

Entertainment session:

The use of devices for the participants was restricted, so that everyone was engaged and encouraged to go to other means of recreation. There were discussions, chess games, and even dancing: cherished moments!

Sports session:

Concerning sports, we had a prayer walk, strengthening both physical and spiritual muscles. Before we vacated the camp premises, we visited Emmanuel Park and had a bit of fun before returning everyone to their various locations.

The teens were engaged in many activities; they led sessions in prayer, worship and devotion. Pastor Dare also prayed a prayer of impartation on them. The Word of God says in Proverbs 22:6 KJV - "Train up a child in the way he should go: And when he is old, he will not depart from it." Therefore, we have been given an important task, to help guide children unto the right path and help them to know God for themselves. It is our prayer that they will become men and women who will stand for Christ in the years to come!

THRONE ROOM 2023

A WORSHIP EXPERIENCE IN LAGOS, NIGERIA

Throne Room Concert is an annual event organised by the Tabernacle of David (TOD) Choir, a ministry under the auspices of Word of Faith Christian Centre (WOFCC) in Lagos, Nigeria. This event is an integral part of the Fountain of Wisdom Ministries.

Our overarching vision is to pioneer a paradigm shift in worship, ushering in a new era of devotion as prophesied in Amos 9:11-13.

Since its inception in 2012 (first known as 'TOD Concert'), the event has evolved into what is now known as THRONE ROOM, a name designated in 2015. Traditionally scheduled in the last week of September or the first week of October, THRONE ROOM seeks to articulate the divine will of God through the medium of music.

At the outset of each year, during our strategic meeting and love feast, various committees are established. Among these, the Throne Room Committee is entrusted with the pivotal responsibility of organising and overseeing the concert.

The Head of Department (HOD) here at WOFCC Lagos, is tasked with selecting the theme for the concert, often drawing inspiration from the spiritual direction articulated by our esteemed leader, Rev. Kola Ewuosho.

THRONE ROOM 2023 marked a distinct milestone with the theme 'FLOURISH'. A unique approach was adopted for songwriting, emphasising collaboration. The initial rehearsal, an all-night endeavour, was punctuated with fervent prayer and worship. Although the composition of a chorus was achieved, it took several subsequent rehearsals before a complete song was finalised. This persistent effort ultimately yielded two additional compositions on a subsequent occasion. At the end of the day, we wrote 3 songs namely: 'Flourish', 'I Will Not Fight in This Battle' and 'Jesus is My Source'. Watch out for the official release.

In tandem with our musical preparations, a structured regimen of prayer sessions was conducted. These sessions, convened online via WhatsApp, preceded each rehearsal and served as a spiritual foundation for our endeavours.

Central to our event is the participation of esteemed ministers. Each year, we extend invitations to guest ministers to enhance our worship experience, aligning with the chosen theme. Additionally, we take the opportunity to showcase the extraordinary talents of our in-house anointed music ministers. This year, we were privileged to have Odunayo Adebayo, a prolific songwriter known for compositions such as 'ZOE' and 'AYO DE', grace us with his presence. Some of the in-house ministers we featured include Minister Anny, Yinka Noiki, Mnena Sadiku, and Fiyinfoluwa Ogunnaike (Fofu), not to mention our Teens choir. The impact of all the ministers' contributions remains indelible in our lives.

The Throne Room Concert of 2023 stands as a testament to our unwavering commitment to excellence in worship and the profound influence it wields on the spiritual landscape.

WISDOM 365

A DAILY DEVOTIONAL

WISDOM NUGGETS FOR EVERY SEASON

POWER OF DAILY DEVOTION

To be the best or get the best out of any subject in life, we need to understand that there are usually different aspects to the subject matter. We all know we need to read our bibles and pray everyday if we want to grow to become all that God wants us to become. After getting born again through accepting Jesus Christ as our Lord and Saviour, in line with Romans chapter 10, we need to deepen our relationship with God by His Word and by His Spirit. This is one reason to read the bible and pray daily.

Devotional reading and praying should happen daily. To get a good understanding of the bible, there are various aspects to the grasping of the content of the bible. These include devotional reading, studying and the general reading of the bible; the same way prayer has different aspects like intercession, supplication as well as giving of thanks, to name a few aspects of prayer.

This book on devotional reading, helps you to draw closer to God as you internalise the principles, instructions and admonitions from God's Word. You will not only draw closer to Him but your internal conditioning will be affected too. You will learn to maintain your joy in whatever situation you face; your attitude will move from complaining to being grateful - just to mention a few benefits from cultivating a habit of devotional reading of the bible and praying. Growing up into the fullness of Christ is a lengthy process and it involves daily devotion, as we start our day with prayer and reading the scriptures and fellowship with the Lord by His Spirit who lives in us. Welcome to the process of enjoying your walk with God and growing up into Christ, enjoying the fullness of His grace and experiencing victory in many areas of your life. Enjoy God, your Heavenly Father.

Read your Bible, pray everyday, if you want to grow”; was the instructional song we sang regularly back in the old ‘CU’ (Christian Union) days. You never left your room, without having your morning devotion! However, over the years, the discipline and habit of ‘morning devotion’ became lost on many believers. This is attributable to a number of factors, and just to mention a few- a, some believers began to find it boring and irrelevant, because it became a mere religious exercise that had lost its meaning and power; b, life became more fast-paced and a lot of believers became caught up in the rat-race, making morning devotion of less priority. The Bible says the love of the world chokes the love of the Father in us (1 John 2:15); and c, Believers have become less communal and accountable in their lifestyle; and have become more independent and individualistic. For instance, back in the day; you would be asked about what you read in your morning devotion or (and) what God said to you! I remember the song, “God has something to say (to you); listen, listen, pay close attention, for God has something to say.”

However, I believe it's time believers returned to the habit of having morning devotion time; for its various benefits, to mention a few: a, it grows you spiritually; b, it enhances your walk with God; c, it widens and deepens your knowledge of the scriptures (you would agree with me that the majority of ‘modern’ Christians have a very limited knowledge of the Bible!); d, it gives you the wisdom needed for daily living, and; e, it helps you develop a disciplined lifestyle.

We hope this all-year round Morning Devotional Book will encourage and aid you in achieving this goal. No one could ever and should never grow out of the simple, old, established and proven discipline of Morning Devotion.

A warm welcome to WISDOM 365!
