Eradicating Spiritual Confusion

By Rev. Kola Ewuosho

There is a whole lot of dynamics involved in walking with God.

Some have an imposed conviction about who God is and what His demands are. These tend to do whatever they have to do without consideration for anything in the natural. Their personal convictions may not be based on the scriptures but some subjective understanding of a few verses in the bible. This is what I believe is the foundation for confusion in many lives; Subjective imposition over objective truth as contained in the Bible. Let us try to define our terms. The bible contains Truth in its objective sense. The personal experience or understanding we have is called our subjective perception/interpretation. When our subjective experience is based on objective truth, our lives stand a better chance to influence others correctly and bring honour to God. Many subjective experiences tend to create confusion when not subject to objective truth. Subjective dealings should substantiate objective truth, not lead us away from truth as it is contained in the Bible. Do not allow subjective dealings cause you to deny objective truth. Case in point; I have no job and the Bible says I should 'bring the entire tithe into the storehouse'. Without a job I do not have the money to tithe so I decide to ignore the demand of objective truth. I reason, 'God knows I do not have a job so I do not qualify for tithe to be expected of me.' The right response should be to acknowledge my state (joblessness) but still base my relationship with God on the Word rather than limit God to my experience.

“What does it mean to be truly saved?”

I should rather go to God and say ‘Lord I need to give my tithe but without a job it is not feasible, can you please help me, show me what to do so I can come to the place where I can bring my tithe to the storehouse.’ That stance will open me up to God’s provision, either to get money directly or get a job that pays me money. God’s response to this kind of prayer will be speedy because it shows that the person is committed to a life of obedience and is willing to act on the Word of God.

The three areas we will try to consider in this article are on salvation, prayers and being led of the Holy Spirit. Who is saved and what does it mean to be saved? Many we see have prayed the prayer of salvation without any real change in their lives. What does it mean to repent?

What does it mean to be truly saved?

The debate about once ‘saved always saved’ and the possibility of loss of salvation in a person’s life both hang on different emphasis. When you consider the work done in Christ on our behalf, it is not possible to undo this because of our shortcomings. On the other hand when we see the righteous standards of God we wonder if it is not going to amount to double standards if God would welcome us into His Kingdom in our sinful state. My contribution is that the work done in Christ is for those who consciously accept the sacrifice of Christ and through a lifestyle of obedience maintain their walk with God. The work is mighty enough to practically change our nature so the outworking of this change is what guarantees the growth into the fullness of God’s plans and purposes. Does praying the prayer of salvation really change lives? The answer is yes and no. Yes, if mixed with faith and action that is in alignment with the truth of our salvation and the sincerity of the faith involved. No, if the prayer was simply a mouthing of words without any conviction or heartfelt commitment to life change. This is true for any type of prayer too. It is faith and the state of the heart that determines the efficacy of prayer.

So who then is saved? Let us examine the life of a man in the Bible who was saved care for the sheep not to necessarily pick what is in their heart. Hence many churches put people in places of leadership who do not have a right heart and

“He had no part in the Kingdom because his heart was not right.”

and baptised and followed the anointed man of God that was used to bless him. I am talking about Simon in the book of Acts chapter 8 from verses 9-24. Was he saved? Yes! Baptised? Yes! In fact was about to be filled with the Holy Spirit for Christian service. The apostolic grace in Peter picked the contents of his heart. His heart was in the gall of bitterness, in the bond of iniquity and full of wickedness. This was revealed as he attempted to use money to ‘tap into the anointing’. Such a wrong motive revealed major issues in his heart. He had no part in the matter of the Kingdom because his heart was not right. All the saved people whose hearts are not right do not have any part in the work of the Kingdom. I don’t think a pastor will see this reality because the anointing on the pastor is to such people will become doors to satanic activities in the future of that church or ministry.

Lessons from a Sorcerer

What lessons can we learn from Simon the sorcerer? First, that he was really ‘saved’ and being ‘saved’ at this level did not affect the contents of his heart. Being saved sometimes does not remove the contents that were in the hearts before salvation. Time is needed to bring the soul to the place where it can commence the process of salvation in this dimension. Secondly, we can learn that whatever the foundation we had in our minds before salvation needs dealing with before the foundation of God’s Kingdom can be properly built into us.

Many have foundations that end up destroying their Christian faith eventually, because such foundations were founded on the satanic and demonic. Simon's foundation was in sorcery and seeking to be in control was his style in the occult. He wanted to exchange the power with money so he could be in charge again. Every foundation seeks to come up from time to time to exert its influence in the lives of people. In the book 'God's Generals', Roberts Liardon brings home the fact that many past lifestyles came up in the future of God's generals to affect some of them after they were mightily used of God. What are the various foundations we have today? Humanism, religion, immorality, and a lifestyle of gambling are all examples of foundations that need to be destroyed, for the proper foundation in God to be planted. Some foundations are more subtle than others.

Watch out for Religion

that tends to impose certain beliefs on people to externally regiment their lives without necessarily connecting their hearts in these exercises. It is without relationship with God but attempts to practise what looks like piety. Religion is a very terrible foundation that will destroy a true foundation in Christ if care is not taken. Demonic principalities are the chief ones involved in the strongholds, responsible for the foundations of people, so they can effectively thwart the efforts of the kingdom in any part of the world. Religion is the work of a principality. It combines the work of the flesh and all the factors of lusts and popularity and taking our significance from prideful things, all beautifully camouflaged in religious clichés and terminologies. My observation about religious spirits is that they have certain characteristics, amongst others, namely they arrive at certain 'convictions' and become blinded by these convictions, to the point that their minds are shut down to every other developmental factor that may be involved in the matter. If these convictions seem to be 'good' they appear to be forthright. Usually how they arrive at their convictions is questionable. The Word of God is supposed to be the basis for the Christian's conviction, not some out of this world deductions that tend to bring condemnation to others rather than an encouragement to grow. Religion does not encourage the development of the minds of those involved in the understanding of the matters involved. So religion can be seen as conviction that negates mental development. It demands an unquestioning acceptance of certain belief without any attempt to derive any meaningful understanding. When Christ comes into our lives, His life in us energises our brain cells to give us a higher capacity to think properly. If Daniel and his friends could be ten times better than their peers in their days, the New Testament, based on better promises, surely has a better thing to offer us in that area.

DEALING WITH Guilt

BY REV. FUNKE EWUOSHO

Guilt is a very powerful force that has plagued the whole human race since the fall of man in the garden of Eden. Most of our actions and utterances are driven or controlled by guilt. A lot of folks are no more in control of their actions any more, somebody else is in control, using the unseen force of guilt.

GUILT, according to the Oxford English Dictionary is 1. The fact of having committed a specified or implied offence; 2. A feeling that one is to blame. Note from the above definition, that guilt could therefore, either be a fact or a feeling, or both! In knowing how to deal with guilt successfully, you must identify what exactly you are dealing with- are you dealing with a fact or merely a feeling of guilt or both?

Some reasons for Guilt

To help us identify, I'll like to mention some reasons why we feel guilty.

1. Sometimes because we truly are, then it is a fact not just a feeling that can be waved aside. In some cases we are truly responsible, we are truly to blame, we truly committed an offence. The Bible says, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." So, if you have never repented of your sins and asked God to forgive you, you are truly guilty according to God's Word. We do have genuine responsibility towards God and people; the greatest commandment is to love God with all our heart and mind and strength, the 2nd is to love our neighbour as ourselves. We must however find out from God's Word, and also let the Holy Spirit teach us how to do this, or else we will always be flogged by guilt.

2. Because of our own insecurity or poor self-esteem, we think we are responsible for everyone and everything. We get our kicks from what we do, from other people's approval or affirmation and we want everybody to be happy with us, so we can't say 'No'. If things go wrong, you think it can't be the fault of others, it has to be yours. It has to be your fault that your children are wayward, that somebody left your church, that someone backslid from the faith, that your parents are divorced, that you are divorced- the list is endless. Jesus never blamed Himself for Judas betraying Him or Peter denying Him!

3. Because of the unreasonable expectations and demands others place on us or we thought they placed on us or even we place on ourselves. Sometimes others expect or demand from us what we are not even in a position to do and we feel guilty if we don't oblige. Some times people expect their leaders to be there for them and be strong all the time, they don't expect them to be tired or even to sleep. Some leaders actually think being a leader means all of that; yet Jesus was hungry, He was tired, He slept off in a boat, He showed different emotions.

Jesus was never controlled by the expectations of the people, He was led by the Holy Spirit.

4. Because of our past experiences, up-bringing, past sins and failures; we tend to be so easily plagued or attacked by guilt. For instance, Peter could have been flogged by guilt all his life for failing his Master. It has been said that the guilt in man is a product of man failing God in eating of the forbidden fruit. A man who abandoned his family will find himself living in guilt.

What Guilt produces in us

What we don't deal with, will eventually deal with us. We need to mention some of the things guilt produces in us, so we can find in us the resolution to deal with guilt wherever it is lodged inside of us.

First of all, we must understand that not all feeling of guilt is negative; there is the positive kind which Paul spoke about in 2 Corinthians 7:9-11. He called it 'godly sorrow' as opposed to the sorrow of the world. Godly sorrow produces repentance leading to salvation, not to be regretted; but worldly sorrow produces death. I believe that the absence of this godly sorrow in many so called conversions is largely responsible for the kind of watered-down Christianity we see around today. Paul said, "What diligence it produced in you, what clearing of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what vehement desire, what vindication..." So we shouldn't run away from this kind of sorrow, we should rather let it produce in us what it produced in those folks.

Now to the negative by-products of guilt:

1. It produces a feeling of unworthiness. You feel you are not worthy or you've been disqualified because of what you did. This could be a sincere feeling, but you must learn to overcome it. Paul said he wasn't worthy to be called an apostle because he persecuted the church of God; he, however, added, "But by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace toward me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me." (1 Cor.15:9,10).

Note that the feeling of unworthiness can paralyse, immobilise and make you ineffective in your Christian witness and in life generally. Some people don't try again because they have failed before; whereas a failure isn't just somebody who failed while trying but someone who has stopped trying.

2. Guilt produces in us a deep feeling of anger, resentment, frustration and bitterness. The deep-seated anger in most people is a product of the guilt they suffer from the unrealistic expectations and demands others have put on them at the expense of what they judged they could have done for themselves!

"A failure isn't just somebody who failed while trying, but someone who has stopped trying."

Some people, out of guilt, spent their lives doing what they didn't want to do, going where they never wanted to go, and worse still, at the expense of their own progress- they are going to end up becoming very angry and bitter. Guilt is a wrong motivation for doing things for people. The brother of the prodigal son was very angry, he said to his father

"Lo these many years I have been serving you, I never transgressed your commandment at any time; and yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might make merry with my friends." (LK.15:29). His father told him all he had was his! The question is, why hadn't he ever taken a young goat to make merry with his friends? So many times we place some burden or restrictions on ourselves that God or nobody else has placed on us and when we find out later how much we've missed, we become angry and bitter.

Testimonies

-FROM AROUND THE WORLD-

India

"I cannot explain the amount of internal work that I have gone through while in the Fountain of Wisdom Ministries UK bible school. My Call for ministry is activated, and God has shown me many areas of my life which I should correct. The first trimester of the Bible school equipped me to go to my country with a vision for souls getting saved."

Kenya

"Thank you for the 'Unlocking your Destiny Conference.' The meetings were life changing to my spiritual life and since I attended, my ministry has never remained the same. Thank you for the impartation." (Pastor)

Belarusian State

"I was a Christian while I was in Nigeria, but since coming here I have been finding it hard to maintain my spiritual stand; I sometimes have some strange things coming to press me in bed while I am sleeping. This has been my state until I stumbled over your CD. I saw it with a fellow student that came from Cairo, Egypt. He said that a friend gave it to him while he was there. Need I tell you how inspiring and soul-lifting that message was to me. There and then I decided that I have to listen to more of your messages. Thanks and God bless you."

Ghana

"My first contact with FOWM, Ghana was in February, 2003. Since then, my life has been a bundle of testimonies. I will share the latest one.

I am a medical doctor and have been trying to pass the membership examination for the past year. I had two unsuccessful attempts and was contemplating doing it a third time. In the natural, there was nothing that showed that I would have a better outcome this time around. I barely had enough time to study with the fact that I was pregnant. The exams require a great deal of mental, emotional and physical stamina which I did not feel I had. In spite of it all, I had no peace when I thought of backing out, so I went ahead and registered for it, feeling very inadequate all the way. Coming from a background filled with negativity did not help matters. I passed the first part as usual, but my name was mistakenly omitted from the pass list! It took much encouragement in the Word of God to get me to go on to do the second part. I also thank the Lord for the series that Pastor was teaching in church about dealing with strongholds. To the glory of God, I not only passed but had the best result in the whole of West Africa in a particular segment which was my greatest challenge in time past. This is a reflection of the spirit of excellence present in the house. I thank God for using this ministry mightily to do a great work in my life."

Nigeria

"I listened to Rev. Kola's message about 'The Grasshopper Complex' at one of the stations in Abuja and it really helped me to go for something I have been afraid to do for over a year. It was a big success. Praise be to God."

Malta

"I had a mental relationship with God for many years, but it was life-less and self-centred. I lived in sin and drank heavily, searching for a life I did not know I could have in God. Even before stepping foot inside Harvestime Church (A FOWM Church), just in the car park outside, I had my first encounter with the Holy Spirit. God delivered me from alcohol and smoking addiction. The teaching and impartation I am receiving is challenging me to rise up and be all that He has called me to be!"

Subsequent to the meeting held with the founding and senior pastors in February 2006, the church has moved dynamically into an outreach mode. During the meeting mentioned, God spoke to the church through His servant, Rev. Kola Ewuosho. The word revealed to the church that if the Body of Christ in Kano will arise to aggressively win souls, we shall see an end to violence in our city. As a result, the church has commenced evangelism training programmes for the members.

In addition, various outreaches are being planned to complement the street outreaches already in existence. Both the couples and youth fellowships will be holding programmes targetting the unsaved and designed to bring a harvest of souls into the kingdom. In addition, a musical/drama outreach shall also hold in the church hall soon. As the church rises up to play it's part we look forward to seeing the word released made manifest in Kano.

Eldoret, Kenya

Rev. Kola and Rev. Funke have opened an enclosed hope and revealed the prophetic destiny of many young pastors and ministries here in Kenya. Since their coming to the western part of Kenya, churches have begun to operate in a new practical level. One has grown in number, and the anointed teaching of Rev. Kola Ewuosho has established and transformed the church that was in the place of winding up. Many churches in Eldoret city are always eager and expectant for his coming.

Almost all pastors in the city have a relationship with the 'Fountain of Wisdom Ministries' through tapes, and other materials. Currently, pastors in more than five major cities in Kenya are connected to this ministry and my hope is that within a period of four years the whole nation will be involved in their programme.

The Fountain of Wisdom Ministries, Ghana runs a church in the city of Accra. We also run a Bible school with students from different churches. The church started home groups about two months ago and we presently have seven of them running. The yearly Apostolic Conference is one of the avenues that we partner with other churches to reach our city and country. The ministry is in relationship with over a hundred pastors. We also run non-denominational couples fellowship which caters for the needs of married couples in the land. The ministry also reaches many though her radio programme "Discipling the Nation".

Student outreaches are being organized and recently a new dimension was added by showing films. In recent times, we have had a crusade using the films in a nearby town. We are also reaching out to students in our tertiary institutions, which are our universities and polytechnics. The church is in the process of acquiring a landed property.

News

-from our base in the United Kingdom-

The Old Church Hall, Rear of Station Parade, Virginia Water, Surrey, GU24 4AB

This January, Harvestime Church, the Fountain of Wisdom Ministries base in the United Kingdom, celebrated her third year anniversary. God is continually adding to the church, with many lives being touched through the efforts of the street evangelism team. Another focus of the church in recent months, has been in the training and developing of leaders- with the right heart, vision and motivation. This has been possible through leadership training seminars and the development of the 'Wisdom Life Training Centre.' (see across) Other exciting developments have been in the raising of youth leaders who are now running with the vision to reach their generation. This year has also seen the growth of home cell groups with four new cells being born. In the near future, the ministry will be focusing on reaching a wider area of the United Kingdom, with teaching outreaches planned in major cities and towns throughout the country. The next outreach on 'Winning the Battle for your Soul, Mind and Future' will be taking place in the city of Oxford. Please contact our U.K office for further information.

WISDOM Life TRAINING CENTRE

Your financial support will be used to plant new churches, hold Conferences in various Nations, to send out tapes and CDs, and to support the broadcast of God's Word on TV and Radio all around the world. Your decision will make an eternal difference in literally thousands of lives and in the generations to come! To find out more about partnership, please contact us at any of our offices and ask for our free partners minibook.

SALVATION

If you are reading this and you know that you do not have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and a certainty in your heart that you are going to heaven, it is vitally important that you ask Jesus to be the Lord of your life today. 'Whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.' To make a decision to follow Jesus, you can pray this simple prayer.

"Father God, I know that I have sinned against you. I believe that Jesus died on the cross to forgive my sins and rose again so that I could have eternal life. Jesus, I ask you to be my personal Lord and Saviour. From this day on, I choose to follow and obey you. I receive the Holy Spirit into my heart. Thank you for saving me!"

If you have prayed this prayer today, it is important that you now develop your relationship with God. We would love to send you some free materials to help you. Please email office@fowm.org or call one of our offices around the world.
